

USMAA partners with VIC Lanka COVID Aid to assist Sri Lankans in Victoria

USMAA participated in a multi-faith initiative to render assistance to needy Sri Lankans in Melbourne, especially students.

Vic-Lanka Covid Aid was dedicated to guide, assist and advocate for those Victorian Sri Lankans affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. They are a collective group of legal, employment, health and financial aiding professionals that provide services and solutions in areas of legal matters, health, job related and financial issues.

USMAA was proud to partner with this group and extended financial assistance to those who reached to the VIC Lanka COVID Aid for assistance. In addition, USMAA also assisted the affected students by writing to their respective universities humbly requesting to defer the tuition fee or renegotiate terms with the said students.
